

Biological Variation on RIQAS reports

Dear Participant

Biological Variation estimates are currently under review by the EFLM (European Federation of Clinical Chemistry and Laboratory Medicine). As these values are constantly being updated we have decided to temporarily remove the Biological Variation from the RIQAS reports while these are still being updated. If you require Biological Variation values these can be obtained from <https://biologicalvariation.eu/>

If you have any questions, please contact us at mail@riqas.com

Kind regards
